the intimation of the same and manner of his death is certainly a most fortunate circumstance. If every human being lived to the exact age of seventy, then died of old age, the plans of life could be perhaps more definitely laid and more certainly carried out. Our life would lose so small share of the variety that now belongs to it, and most of the interest with which it is regarded. While the nearsightedness of continuance is, theoretically, a source of anxiety, it is very questionable whether anybody in fairly good health is much disturbed by the reflection that sooner or later he will have to die, for much of the philosophical tendency of even philosophical folk that, while accepting the scientific method, have been

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a person to obtain a patent, he must write a letter to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademark, U.S. Patent Office, Washington, D.C., who will then refer the matter to the Patent Office. The Patent Office will then examine the invention and decide whether or not it is new and useful. If it is, the Patent Office will issue a patent to the inventor. The patent will give the inventor the exclusive right to make, use, and sell the invention for a period of 17 years. After 17 years, the invention will be in the public domain and anyone can make, use, or sell it.

"Going into a declination." How often we hear this expression. What does mean? It means that people are losing flesh, growing thin, wasting. The way to correct this condition is to improve the digestion. The condition arises from an inability to eat and digest food. In fact, food does more harm than good because it ferments poisonous substances which when absorbed cause various disorders.

What is required is that the stomach be made to perform its duties. The baker Digestive Cordial is a food already digested and a digester of foods as well. It will make the stomach healthy. Get a book from the druggist and read about it.

The opening article, upon "Heroines and Heroic Worship," affords a vehicle for nearly a score of exquisite reproductions from the old and modern masters. A similar opportunity is found in the intensely poetic story, by Ernest Morrison, of "The men, who assembled Christ," which in addition is illustrated with some original drawings of rare delicacy.

For elegant, clean work, patronize the Richmond Steam Laundry. Goods called for and delivered. Clyde Watwood, agent, at the Commercial Hotel, Hartford, Ky.

A terrible wind raged in this section after dark Monday evening until nearly midnight. No serious damage was done outside of blowing down a few chimneys and fences.

Messrs. Ewan Holbrook, W. H. Manry, J. A. Smith and W. J. Garrett were out on their Southern hunting expedition Sunday. They reported a delightful trip but not much game.

Mrs. Ann Boucher, of Ohio, died in Hartford, Monday night. She was the oldest negro in the county and probably in the State, having attained the advanced age, it is said, of 104 years.

A. D. Taylor, the photographer, will give out nine Nelsons, James, Mat and Olaus with each dozen cabinet photos from now until Jan. 1, 1906. It will be his Christmas present for his friends.

A letter received from Prof. Wm. Foster, now at Princeton, N. J., states that he has been chosen by a unanimous vote as Secretary of the post-graduate club of the University, a greatly appreciated honor.

All agree Life Insurance is a good investment, when taken in the proper company. The sooner you get it the better it is for you. The Prudential check company is the best.

A good commission from Abbeville was received by Tom Heman yesterday, but as only the initials of the writer were given, we could not publish it. Write again, friend, and we are to give you your real name—not for publication, but as evidence of good faith.

At last Hartford's street crossings are being repaired, but in a very satisfactory fashion. Shopping streets are not little better than mud, and no better on dark nights than a black sea.

What is needed, and it is hoped that the authorities will see that these are provided at an early date.

As you pull up to that fat turkey and get your dinner, think of the thousands of the poor, don't forget the newspaper man. Remember he has added much to your life in the last twelve months, and he has been very intelligent with you in your return to him. Pay him!

The Walter A. Wood Moving and Reaping Machine Co. has been awarded a diploma of honor or silver medal by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in charge of Mr. J. P. Coleman, a former resident of Hartford, who is now in the position of the Company, and to whose personal efforts is due the success of the company in this regard.

Last Monday, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Martin were on their way to the funeral of Miss Wm. Stevens, near Prentiss, they stopped at a house in Beaver Dam to make a small purchase. While waiting for the return of the clerk, the horse they were driving reared up and fell dead. It is not known what ailment the horse was suffering from, as it was in apparently good health when they started. The horse belonged to Fink & Holbrook, the Hartford liveryman, and was the well known Pilot.

A postponed meeting has been in progress at the C. P. Church in Hartford for the past week and a half, in charge of Rev. Willis Smith and J. P. Hanks. Rev. Smith is doing most of the talking, and he is a powerful, convincing, and breathes the true spirit of Christianity. Several conversions have taken place, and many have been revived and much good has been accomplished. It is hoped that the future will see the influence of the good people of Hartford and vicinity, without regard to denomination.

The Hartford Commercial Club has been reorganized at the following officers installed: J. R. Ginn, President; E. D. Guffy, Vice President; E. P. Carson, Secretary; and E. P. Thomas, Treasurer. Great effort will be made to make the work of the Club more effective, if possible, in the future there it has been the wish of the Club to have a more active and successful work.

Another commendable enterprise. A wide field is open before the Club and it is hoped it will have the co-operation of the citizens of the county.

A Convalescence to the Public. The Hartford County Hospital in Hartford which seems to be progressing these hard times. This is the last of Hartford. The capital stock of the hospital has been increased to $100,000. It is now $100,000. All of the additional stock has been subscribed by the hospital, but the hospital is not yet open. It is a great convenience to the local business people to have the bank no longer a great good loss.

Chas. R. Hanks announces that he has money on hand for the discount of all good paper that may be brought to him. Money makers in all departments of business are said to be growing easier and it is a good time to find money. Money is said to be the demand of the business community to meet the demands of trade. Good banking facilities go far toward stimulating business activity.
